CAN YOU GUESS.

Here's a Chance to Make Ten Dollars Easy.

All You Have to Do Is Pick the Winners in the Coming Primary.

Just for the interest attached to a guessing contest and to put a little more interest into the coming campaign for County officers, The News will give its readers a chance to make ten dollars and have a little fun at guessing on the side.
To the person making the first nearest correct guess of the winners in the Democratic Primary Election which will be held in this county on Saturday, June 1st, 1901, The News will present a ten dollar gold piece. The conditions of the contest are simple. Old subscribers and new subscribers who pay $2 on their subscriptions will each be entitled to a guess, and as many guesses as they pay year's subscription. If no one guesses correctly, the first one who guesses the closest to all the winners will receive the ten dollars.

You intend to pay your subscription anyway, and you may as well pay before the first day of June and have a chance of getting your money back, besides gaining the distinction of knowing more about the political situation than your neighbors.

Each guess will be registered when received as to the exact day, hour and minute. No one will be permitted to see how any one else has guessed. In guessing only the offices on the ballot are to be considered.

PEARLS.

How to Find and How to Value
Them.

[Copyright 1900, by HERMAN MYER.]

41 and 43 Madison Lane, N. Y. City.

Usually the pearls are seen as soon as the inside of the shell fish is examined with the eyes. They appear either perfectly plain in view or partly shining through a small water blister. Generally they are in the outside transparent part or mantle of the flesh near the shell.
If no pearl is seen, examine the flesh thoroughly with your thumb, as before directed.

The best pearls are found in the point of the shell near the first "ribbed" part of the shell. Pearl's found in the flesh of the shell are usually of better shape and brighter lustre than those found in any other part of the shell. Many pearls which have little or no lustre, and of numberless queer shapes, but almost no value are found near the hinge. Occasionally somewhat better ones are found under the ligament where it is fastened to the shell.

You will find that pearl search will pay you an average of fully three times as much as any other form of labor.
While the season lasts. It is well to get several others to go to the river with you, at the same time, because when a dozen or more go at once, some of you are sure to find a good pearl in a few hours. The sight of this pearl will readily be seen that the work is quite remunerative.

Remember that the value is not in the shell, but in the pearl, which it takes a few days to find, but which brings money enough to pay for weeks or months of labor. Remember, also, that while a spat may work for several days and obtain, no reward, that the next shell may bring him from five to one thousand dollars. I know a boy whose find of many small pearls amounted to $650 in three weeks. The next three weeks he worked in the same spot, and had only one 50-cent pearl. Many $1,000 pearls are found each year, and vast numbers of $100 ones. I lately paid $1,125 for a pearl. Perseverance wins in all things. Nothing is obtained without labor.

How To Open a Shell

Introduce blade at point shown in illustration. Press down. This cuts one ligament. With large shells it is necessary to introduce the blade in the other end of the shell near the hinge and cut the other ligament before the shell can be opened. Keep the knife blade away from the point "P" as far as possible, by keeping it near the hinge of the shell.

fastened to the shell. Sometimes fine ones are found attached to the shell. Do not break such off, but send whole shell with pearl attached. The better shaped ones are found in the flesh near the outer edge or lip of the shell.
As before stated, those which are found nearest the point are most apt to be brightest. For this reason you should use care in opening the shell so that the edge of the knife blade may not touch the pearls, should one be found at this spot. (See illustrations.) You should also use great care in opening the shells so that the best pearls may not be lost. Pearls are often lost when opened while you are standing in the water, or when the shells are carelessly examined and thrown aside.

Do not let a small fortune slip through your fingers because of a little carelessness.

After the flesh is examined as directed, the shell is thrown aside and a new one opened and examined in the same manner. This is continued with patience, remembering, that while every ten to fifty shells contain some sort of worthless pearl, that only about one in every thousand contains a pearl, and only one in ten salable pearls is of much value. But as a man can open from 1,500 to 5,000 per day, it is encourage the others to keep at it until they get their first good pearl. After that they are sure good ones are there, and each day and season will return to the river to win a rich reward.

Remember, also, that the work can be done in odd days in odd hours, and even when no other work offers. It requires no tools and no experience—just the least bit of patience. For this reason the gentler sex make excellent fishermen. In many localities women constantly search the streams and daily secure valuable pearls to the market.

If you favor me at any time by a visit to my office (and I shall welcome you) I will show you among many other interesting things some photographs of a stream in Arkansas. These were taken just after several thousand dollar pearls had been discovered in a few days.

These photographs there are over five hundred people searching in the shallow water, which varies from a few inches to three feet in depth. Standing in this water you will see people from a small black negro boy to the best dressed and wealthiest men and women of the community. They include the president of the local bank, and the wife and daughter of a prominent citizen of this Judicial Court. I daily receive many many dollars' worth of pearls from that spot, and its output has been increasing year by year. Your locality may prove as good. Give it a good trial.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

How to Prepare Stuffed Cabbage.

Cut out the root and remove one leaf all around a sound savory cabbage.
Wash and in a kettle of salted water cook ten minutes, drain, plunge in cold water, drain again and squeeze the water off. Scoop the heart out, making it a bowl-like shape, being to receive the stuffing. Chop fine two large onions and put them in a small saucepan with one heaping tablespoonful of butter.
Cook four minutes, tossing them so they do not brown. Chop fine the heart of the cabbage. Add the onions and one pound of sausage meat or one pound of fresh pork, half lean, half fat, and chopped fine, and a tablespoonful of chopped parsley. Season with one teaspoonful of salt and one teaspoonful of black pepper. Mix everything well.
Add two raw eggs and mix well again.
Stuff the cabbage tightly clear to the top. Close it with two of its leaves and tie it well. Cut in thin slices half a pound of bacon, cover the bottom of a grazer with them and put the cabbage in. Pour in half a pint of broth, cook one hour and a half, basting from time to time. Remove the cabbage from the pan, take off the leaves from the top, sprinkle over half a pint of white bread crumbs, strain the gravy, pour it over and place in the hot oven for 30 minutes, basting twice.—Harper's Bazar.

Keep Growing Plants Well Watered.

Plants need a good deal more water as the days grow longer and warmer than they do in midwinter. They should be given all they can make use of. Watch the surface of the soil and whenever it looks dry give more water.
Do not make the watering a matter of three times a week and so much to a plant, as many do, but be governed by the evident needs of the plant as shown by the soil.—Ladies' Home Journal.

The SPORTING WORLD

When Your Wheel Rests.

Where has your wheel been during the past four months and what condition is it in for the coming spring and summer? With the riding season of 1901, but a few weeks away the question is an opportune one. Common riders possessed of good pocketbooks the condition of their 1900 mounts or the attention they may or may not have received since the holidays of the old year presaged the condition of 1901 makes no material difference. The old mount was only intended for one year's service in any event and will be discarded or put into storage.

MECHANISM OF A CHAINLESS RIGID.

One's hands and effort untold enjoyment for another year or more. Its owner has selected it indeed he has not already given an order for a new year's model, just as he has been in the habit of taking it for granted that his tailor will supply him with a new wardrobe as the old goes out of style and fashion.

To the rider of slender purse, however, the question is a timely one. If he has stowed his wheel away in the cellar to fill up with furnace dust, mayhap to receive the drippings from sweating pipes or water pipes, he will find just about now a fit subject for the scrap heap and will without question need a brand new mount for the present year.

The percentage of riders who take even ordinary care of their wheels during the winter months is small.
Carelessness is certainly a predominating characteristic in the human family, and the fact that nine times out of ten they are compelled to pay dearly for their fault seems to leave no salutary effects. How many riders are there who, when the air becomes chill and the roads frozen, give their bicycles a thorough coating of vaseline, shelter them with a canvas cover and store them carefully in some dry wholesome corner, there to remain until the ensuing season shall call them forth again. In this respect there are few Solomon and equally few wise virgins in the ranks of cyclists. Neglect, dust and dampness work destruction often than not, and the life of many a high grade wheel has been wrecked by neglect and misuse rather than by judicious use and actual wear and tear.

Bicycles, like men and horses, suffer from neglect and abuse, only they suffer to a greater extent because their nickel and enameled parts possess no recuperative power and are dependent for their life and condition upon the care and attention they receive from others.

Favorite For the Derby.

Volodyovski, favorite for the English Derby, holds the center of the turf world at present. He is the most talked about and sought after horse on both continents. Recently he was the bone of contention between Lady Willam Berosford and Lady Meux. To settle the question to whom the colt would belong for this season the case was taken into the English courts. Happily the trouble was adjusted satisfactorily, and he will go back again to Lady Meux, who leased him to Lord William Berosford.

Volodyovski is a bay colt, 3, by Floret—T. Reine. As a 2-year-old he ran nine times, of which number he was returned a winner five times. His first three efforts were failures. He did not develop his great speed and staying qualities till the season was well advanced, and once in form he defeated all the best colts of his age without any great effort.

T. Weldon was Lord Berosford's jockey for the high weights. He lost on Volodyovski three times and then won. It was common report at the time that the stable was dissatisfied with the way he rode the colt. Soon after Weldon was disgraced. The Reiff brothers, Lester and Johnny, then had the leg up, and they won four times out of five efforts. Lester Reiff while here, this winter, expressed the opinion that Volodyovski was the best colt in England.

Penn's New Gymnasium.

The gymnasium committee appointed three years ago, to raise $250,000 for a new gymnasium for the University of Pennsylvania, has made its report, showing that all the money has been raised, the architect's plans approved and laid down by the city of Philadelphia on which to erect the building. Work is to begin at once.
The building will be three stories in height, gymnasium proper occupying the top floor. There will be a running-track gallery around the gymnasium one-tenth of a mile in circuit.
The swimming pool on the ground floor will be 120 feet long by 42 feet broad. Separate rooms will be provided for fencing, sparring and wrestling as well as for the use of the physical director and gymnasium instructor. George Woodruff, expects to be made director general, when the new gymnasium is opened.

That Kentucky Judgeship.

There is a rumor, which is fast gaining strength, that by reason of having testified at the instance of the prosecution in the trial of Ripley, W. O. Bradley, has been given a quietus in his ambitions for the Kentucky Judgeship by the national Republican leaders. Should President McKinley pursue such a course it will place Mr. Bradley in a position morally far above that of the President. No one doubts but what Bradley knows all about the damnable scheme to murder Goebel, but they are likewise certain that he was in no manner a party to it. The fact is that hearing of something in connection with it, he hastened to see the parties and threatened to warn Goebel. He was told there was nothing in it. What there was, but he was proven by subsequent events. Goebel was foully murdered and the whole dirty business is being brought to light. When Bradley was put on the stand he did what any other honest man would have done, told the truth. If he is to be deprived of the office which the President, in all probability, had decided to appoint him to, because of his testimony, it only goes to show that the tin horn politicians and murderers are not the only ones who do not wish the light of truth thrown on the conspiracy. Mr. Bradley may lose the Judgeship, but he will be recompensed by the fact that he has proven himself to be a man of honesty and courage of his convictions.

OBITUARY.

At the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Omar Lytle, in East Paris yesterday morning, Charles Grant Lytle, aged five years. The death of this particularly bright and interesting little child was a sad blow to its parents, and they have the deepest sympathy of their friends. The funeral will be held at the residence at 10 o'clock to-day, service being conducted by Rev. F. J. Cheek. Burial at Paris cemetery.

STORIES OF THE STAGE.

Coming Attractions, Gossip In the Lobby and Boxes

WALKER WHITEHEAD IN "HEART AND SWORD."

Mr. Whitehead's abilities as an actor are well known to the theatre-going people of Paris. His last appearance here in "The Red Cookade" was a distinct hit. In his new play, which was written especially for him, "Heart and Sword," he has made a reputation for himself which insures for him a prominent place among the dramatic artists of the present and future.

The Danville (Va.) Times, of March 20 says:

Cooper's celebrated line, which he puts in the mouth of Ucaas in the "Last of the Mohicans": "I smell the blood of a coward!" was capped in the play of a "Heart and Sword" as presented by Mr. Walker Whitehead and his excellent company last night, in the second act where, as Prince Victor, disguised as his own secret emissary he holds converse with the traitor Stalbach and fans him with his cooked hat, and when the traitor turns aside, it was of a piece with the play, refined, elegant and absolutely in subtleties of irony, humor and compliment, which compelled the closest attention and evoked the warmest praise for the absence of apparent effort in their production.

The specially clever acting of the rest of the company, reinforced Mr. Whitehead's excellent portrayal of the careless Prince, awakened to Statecraft's weight and love's sublimity at the same moment, and made the play as beautiful and charming as a comedy drama as the Hall of Tapestries was a stage scene.

There is just enough clash of arms, just enough court tinsel, just enough of princely entourage, to furnish color and dramatic energy to what is else a delicious love story and the cast fits the tout ensemble of the picture as "Once upon a time" does a fairy tale.

Mr. Whitehead's capabilities are expanding and it would call for no shrewd guess to prophesy that the youthful actor of such versatile mind and undoubted talent would make his next bow here as Richelieu or Richard, whichever it may be, a warm welcome will await him.

Mr. Whitehead appears at the Opera House on May 7.

April 21st. "THE POWER OF HABIT."

Character building. The plastic age. Youth, the formative period. The beginning of sin. The grooves of life deepening. Man a slave. "Sow an act and reap a habit. Sow a habit and reap a character. Sow a character and reap a destiny."

Be not deceived, God is not mocked. Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.

April 28th. "INDUSTRY THE SECRET OF SUCCESS."

Diligence better than genius. "Industry, the mother of good luck." The golden key. Great men who were toilers. Slow and sure. Newton, Barrow, Swift and Scott. The plodders of life. "Go to the ant, thou sluggard! Consider her ways and be wise. Whatsoever her hand findeth to do, do it with thy might."

May 5th. "JOSEPH—A CONQUERING LIFE."

"Truth crushed to earth will rise again." "Virtue is its own reward." "From the prison to the throne." "Wanted, an incorruptible man." "A clean life." "A forgiving spirit." "The true type of manhood."

Wise Elephants.

The baby elephants, members of the Famous Gentry Dog and Pony Show this season, are said to be the brightest specimens of their sort ever exhibited. In fact, it is said, they are capable of going through their performance with out one word of command from the ring master. Their part of the programme lasts nearly fifteen minutes, and comprises some of the most difficult tasks ever attempted by dumb animals. In addition to their brightest they are the most docile specimens ever seen. Very fond of children and as playful as cats. They play many jokes upon the dog and pony members of the company, such as stealing their feed, pulling the dogs' tails, and things of that sort. They were imported direct from India by Prof. Gentry, and nursed on bottles at his farm in Indiana, until they were strong enough to go on the road with the Show.

This excellent organization will exhibit at Paris on Friday afternoon and evening, April 26.

An enormous quantity of fruit is going to waste in Southern California for lack of cars to convey it east. The crop was the greatest on record, being estimated at from 21,000 to 25,000 car loads. There are from 2,000,000 to 4,000,000 boxes of oranges there just now, worth under favorable conditions about 4,000,000, but owing to delay in shipping it is questionable whether it represents much value. No remedy is in sight.

We Have Met the Enemy and We Are Thirsty.

The members of the Blue Grass Gun Club, of this county, went to Cincinnati Wednesday to engage in a match shoot with the Cincinnati Club. The following from yesterday's Enquirer tells the story:

The shooting match between a team of 16 of the Cincinnati Gun Club and a team from Paris, Ky., at targets, took place yesterday at the gun club grounds at St. Bernard. The race proved very exciting, and some remarkable scores were made considering the weather, as the race was shot in a heavy wind and rain. A large crowd from Kentucky accompanied the shooters, and they all rooted for their team, but the boys from this city defeated them by a margin of 42 birds. The shooting of J. Q. Ward, of the Kentucky Club, and Arthur Gambell, from the Cincinnati Club, was the feature of the day, the former scored 48 and the latter 47 out of a possible 50. After the shoot was over the Queen City boys served an elegant banquet to their Kentucky brethren. Speeches were made by a number of those present, and the boys from the blue grass region left, one and all saying that the members of the Cincinnati Gun Club are the best shots as well as the prince of entertainers. A return match will be shot on May 16 or 17 on the Kentucky grounds.

Matrimonial.

One of the prettiest weddings of the year was that of Miss Marie Parrish, the beautiful and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Parrish, of this city, and Mr. J. I. Andrews, of New York, which was solemnized Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents on High street. The ceremony was beautifully performed by Eld. Lloyd Darsie. The room was prettily decorated with growing plants, palms and ferns. The bride carried a large bouquet of lilies of the valley. After the ceremony the guests sat down to an elegant dinner which was thoroughly enjoyed, especially the cutting of the bride's cake. Mr. G. Bacon secured the ring, Miss Jessie Turney the coin, Dr. Evans, of Cincinnati, the thimble, and Judge Brandt, of Cincinnati, the darning needle. The bridal table was beautifully decorated with brides roses, and festoons of smilax were suspended from the chandelier to each corner of the table. A very pretty feature was the throwing of the bride's bouquet, which was caught by Miss Chasman, of Richmond. The presents were many and very handsome, coming from all parts of the country. Masonic Banquet.

Yesterday was a gala day in Masonic circles in Paris. Couer de Lion Commandery, Knights Templar, conferred the Red Cross and Templar degrees upon Mr. W. E. Grigsby, and it was made the occasion for a very delightful reception given to a number of visiting brethren. The visiting Sir Knights began to arrive on the early trains, and every train throughout the day brought in a number. There were delegations from Lexington, Cynthiana, Winchester, Millersburg, Carlisle, Georgetown and Frankfort. The work of conferring the degrees began at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and continued far into the night.

After the work was completed the members of the lodge and the visiting brothers partook of a swell repast at the Hotel Fordham. Landlord Connors fairly outdid himself, everything from the soup to the cigars being of the highest order and it was pronounced one of the finest and best conducted affairs ever given in Paris.

Hospital for Paris.

About the most needed thing in Paris at the present time is a hospital. The closest hospital to Paris where patients can receive the treatment they demand is the St. Joseph's Hospital at Lexington, and there is always from one to a half dozen patients from Paris in that institution. In conversation with a reputable Paris physician the other day, he said to a NEWS man:

"I believe if a canvass of the town was made enough money could be easily secured to build a first-class hospital. I know that every physician in Paris would contribute, and I am confident every business man would. The great trouble a physician has to contend with in treating a patient is that of having the medicine he prescribes improperly administered. And then the friends and relatives of the sick person, owing to their love for them are liable to indulge them in some things which the physician has forbidden, knowing it to be injurious. All this would be obviated at the hospital. Trained nurses would be in constant attendance and the medicine would be given and care taken of the patient according to the physician's instructions. More especially would it be of benefit to the country people, who could be enabled to have their sick under the constant supervision of the physician, instead of perhaps a visit once a day."

The NEWS man was very much impressed with the argument of this physician, and interviewed several others, as well as several business men. Everyone was heartily in favor of the idea, and each one agreed to contribute to the movement.

We would like to see this matter taken up and discussed. The News will cheerfully publish communications on the subject from any one interested. A little discussion through the columns of the press might be the means of arousing enough interest in the matter to push it through to a successful conclusion.

You Do, or You Don't Need Glasses.

The eye being a rather delicate organ, great care should be exercised in the selection of proper glasses. Many believe that glasses should be restored to only when the sight becomes so defective as not to be able to do without. This is a great mistake which must be combated. Whenever there is unmistakable evidence of the need of their aid, they should be used. A neglect of this rule sometimes produces mischief which results in serious trouble if the course be persisted in.

Our Dr. C. H. BOWEN having just returned from taking a special course in Optics from one of the best specialists in New York, is prepared to do the best of work, having the latest improved methods of fitting.
